Few Companies Qualify Under Hospital Scheme

Majority of British Columbians now holding hospital insurance policies with private companies or associations will next year be covered by the government's insurance scheme, it was indicated today.

Dr. J. M. Hershey, hospital insurance commissioner for the province, reported today that the time allowed for insurance companies and associations to submit the necessary details of their hospital insurance plans to the government, in order that their subscribers may claim exemption under the Hospital Insurance Act has expired, with few companies qualifying.

Among the private companies and associations which will retire from the hospital insurance business in this province is the Blue Cross, which provided hospital insurance to 160,000 members.

Dr. Hershey reported that under the circumstances which the company with which they dealt originally in order to provide both medical and surgical benefits.

"Everybody will agree," he said, "that Blue Cross working as a non-profit organization, has made a great contribution to the needs of the province. However, from now on, the government plan, by universal coverage will make it possible for every citizen of the province to receive relief from the cost of hospital care."

In Vancouver, W. G. Welsford, executive director of the Blue Cross, who announced the retirement of that organization from hospital insurance, reported that refunds would be made of all premiums paid to Blue Cross for services beyond next Dec. 31.

Since Blue Cross started operating here in February, 1944, $3,000,000 has been paid in hospital bills, he reported.

NO LIMITATION

Under the government plan there is no limitation on essential hospital care. Dependent coverage is, on the whole, considerably wider than that provided by private plans. Payment to hospitals will be based on actual operating costs which will enable hospitals to function on a better financial basis than in the past, the government feels.

In the case of group insurance providing for medical and surgical coverage as well as hospital insurance, Dr. Hershey said these groups may be better protected by taking out hospital insurance through the government service and obtaining a separate contract

West Voted Down On Danube Issue

BELOGRADE (AP)—Eastern Europe's solid Communist bloc today beat down a western-power effort to win freedom of navigation guarantees on the Danube.

By a vote of 7 to 3, a conference called to write a new convention governing transport on central Europe's major waterway, rejected a French attempt to substitute a preamble of their own for one prepared by Russia for the new pact.

Girl Survivor Tells Vivid Story Of Mountain Tragedy

CRANBROOK (CP)—"Lightning danced on the ice-covered rocks around us and I felt it flutter through my hair."

Ann Strong, 20, of Berkeley, Calif., today nervously muttered this description of the lightning bolt that killed two of her companions and injured herself and another on perilous Bugaboo Spire in the Purcell Mountain range north of here.

"I'll never forget that horrible feeling, sheltering under a rock 10,000 feet up on Bugaboo, when the lightning hit our little party," she said from her bed in St. Eugene Hospital.

Last Wednesday Miss Strong started up the slopes with Bob Becker, 22, of Los Angeles; Rudolf Pundt, 30, Berkeley; and John MacKinlay, 21, San Francisco—all experienced climbers.

"We got to the top all right—it is about 11,500 feet—then a freak summer lightning storm broke over us. We crouched under an overhanging rock.

"Suddenly the lightning struck close. I remember seeing Becker and Pundt outlined against the ridge. Then it was all over. When I regained consciousness I could see Pundt. He was in great pain, and wriggling about.

"Before MacKinlay and I could help, he slipped over the side of the cliff.

"Becker could move his arms and shoulders, but his body was paralyzed from the waist down. MacKinlay and I were both badly burned and very shocked."

Miss Strong said she and MacKinlay tied Becker securely to a rock and started down the mountain for help. The camp was 7,000 feet down, where 14 other members of the California party were waiting.

Rescuers were prevented from scaling the mountain until Friday. "They found him in exactly the same position in which we had left him. But he was dead. We think he died a moment or two after we left him to come for help," Miss Strong said.

The rescue party cut the rope holding Becker's body to the rock.

"They could not hold on to the body and it slipped over the edge of the mountain," she said.

The party set out over the 4,000-foot level for the road with the injured Miss Strong and MacKinlay walking with the others. A large truck brought them to hospital here where both are "recovering quickly."

"I think I'm over the experience now, but I won't forget it for a long, long time," said Miss Strong.

Mackinlay, a 21-year-old architecture student at University of California, said "the sparks ran off our fingertips. We could feel the lightning pulling at us."

He said the journey down the ice-covered slopes to the camp base took four hours.

"Ann slipped as we cleared a glacier. She rolled and tumbled among the boulders loosened by the pelting rainstorm. I was sure she was broken to pieces."

"She fell about 300 feet I guess but when I reached her she had suffered only a forehead gash. Then we continued down and I was sure we wouldn't make it."

"The thunderstorms continued relentlessly and the crackling lightning stood our hair on end," he declared.

Miss Strong is the daughter of the Dean of University of California.

U.S. Rules Soviet Woman Now In Consulate Subject To U.S. Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department has advised the House of Representatives that American activities committee it can serve a subpoena on the Russian woman school teacher currently in the Soviet Consulate in New York.

Press officer Michael McDermott told a press conference the State Department's legal division has given acting Chairman Karl Mundt (Rep. S.D.) of the House Committee his opinion in answer to his request for an official ruling.

McDermott said the Russian school teacher, Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina, "has no immunity at all. She is not a member of the ambassador's staff and is subject to our laws."

Meanwhile, the U.S. State Department and Congressional spy investigators brusquely cold-shouldered today a formal Soviet demand that the United States hand over a Russian school teacher who took his story to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The teacher, Michael Ivanovitch Samarin, stayed in hiding.

But the F.B.I. apparently knew where he was. So did the House of Representatives Un-American Activities Committee, which wants to find out whether he can add anything to the stories it has been hearing about a red spy ring in the United States.

SUBPOENAS ISSUED

The hearings may be prolonged so that Samarin and his wife can be questioned. Subpoenas already have been issued for both.

The committee wants to question the Samarins to see if they have any additional information about Russian intrigues in the United States. It would like to fire some questions, too, at another Russian teacher, Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina.

Samarin and Mrs. Kosenkina both were teaching children of Russian officials assigned to the United Nations in New York. The school was disbanded, and students and teachers were booked to sail for their homeland last month.

But Samarin and Mrs. Kosenkina were not aboard when the ship sailed. The Russians say they don't intend to let them miss the next ship.

Mrs. Kosenkina is in the Soviet Consulate in New York city, "resting" after having been "rescued" from some anti-Communist White Russians Saturday. The White Russian story is that she fled to them in fear of her life and was taken away against her will.

Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin handed the State Department a formal note Monday demanding that the teacher and his family "be given under the protection of the consulate in New York."

STRONG TERMS

Panyushkin rushed back to the Embassy for a rare event there—a press conference. He charged "kidnapping," "blackmail," "sabotage" and "direct violation" American-Russian obligations by United States government "organs."

Panyushkin was informed that the proper authorities were investigating to determine the facts and would take the necessary steps "if there is any evidence of criminal action upon the part of anybody."

Many Indications Tension Easing In Crisis On Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—While Berliners awaited results of Allied talks in Moscow, rumors spread today that the Russians may reopen rail lines between this blockaded city and the west.

An unconfirmed report began circulating in Berlin Monday night that the Russians had ordered German rail officials to stand by for possible reopening of the railway between the western zones and Berlin.

W. T. Batcock, United States deputy commander in Berlin, said he had heard the story from a "fairly accurate" German source, but added that it could only be classified as "pure rumor."

(An A.P. dispatch from Moscow today quoted Britain's special envoy, Frank Roberts, as dropping a remark to correspondents which might or might not mean something: "Well, we won't be news to you much longer now.")

Two food administrations were in prospect today for Berlin after a Russian-sponsored unit crowded the regular city staff out of the City Hall. The building is in the Soviet sector.

The city government has authorized its food department chief, Paul Fuellac, to look for added space. Since there appeared little chance he would be given offices in the Russian sector, it was expected, he would have to open separate offices in the western sectors.

MOSCOW (AP)—Representatives of Britain the United States and France met at the British Embassy here again today, apparently to map their next move in the negotiations with Russia on east-west differences.

There were indications that still more conferences will be held by the three western envoys with Soviet leaders. While the westerners seemed weary, there was no hint of impatience.

National Dairy Council Recommends Rationing As Alternative Plan

Victoria To Get $107,565 Share Of Car Revenue

Victoria this year will receive $107,565 from the provincial government, representing its share of the motor-vehicle license revenue for the year.

Approval of the distribution of the one-third of the motor-vehicle license revenue to the municipalities of the province was announced today by Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb.

While in 1947 there was $1,233,251 distributed, this year the revenue provides $1,529,300 for the municipalities—an increase of almost $300,000.

Sharing in the grants are 97 city, municipal and village municipalities throughout the province.

The amounts to be received by Vancouver Island municipalities are as follows: Oak Bay $22,553, Esquimalt $9,121, Saanich $44,358, Alberni $4,410, Courtenay $4,234, Cumberland $2,160, Duncan $5,343, Ladysmith $4,164, Nanaimo $16,195, Port Alberni $11,189, North Cowichan $11,203, Alert Bay $905, Campbell River $4,881, Comox $1,554, Lake Cowichan $1,618, Parksville $1,330, Qualicum Beach $632, Tofino $630.

Vancouver receives more than any other municipality, $672,109. The distribution is determined by population.

Tory Criticizes Liberal Meeting

OTTAWA (CP)—Dick Bell, national director of the Progressive Conservative Party, said today the party's leadership convention here next month will not be "dictated to from the top."

Outlining convention plans at a press conference, Mr. Bell said he considered the National Liberal Convention which ended Saturday "incredibly autocratic and arbitrary."

"Ours will be a free and uncontrolled convention," said Mr. Bell, who sat in on the Liberal convention as an observer.

OTTAWA (CP)—The National Dairy Council today urged the government to make provision for a "suitable substitute" for butter if it does not reintroduce rationing or import enough butter to meet demands.

Council officials said they made no recommendations as to the type of substitute, although it was presumed the reference was to oleomargarine.

"That would be a matter of government policy," they said.

A dairy council delegation met the cabinet this morning and made these recommendations:

1. The government should take "immediate steps" to import a "sufficient" quantity of butter to satisfy minimum domestic demand.
2. If the government finds it impossible to import enough butter to satisfy the minimum demands, provision should be made for butter rationing.
3. If the government cannot implement the first two recommendations, it should authorize "the sale of the necessary quantity of a suitable substitute product" until "such time as the butter supply is sufficient to meet the demand."
4. If the supply of butter is augmented as recommended, the price ceiling be withdrawn and the industry enabled "to resume normal orderly distribution."

Council officials said the industry does not want the price ceiling removed during the present shortage. It should be removed only when the supply was sufficient to meet demand.

PRESENT DIFFICULTIES

It said the reasons for the expected butter shortage are a reduction in milk production, increases in population, higher prices for milk going into other dairy products, and continued high purchasing power throughout the country.

Canada Sets March 31 For Newfoundland Union

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Canada has set March 31, 1949, as the earliest possible date on which confederation with Newfoundland can be accomplished, it was announced today.

The Canadian government set that date in replying to a commission government query regarding trade. The commission government had asked when confederation may be effected in order to guide commercial interests wishing to import essential supplies.

Because of present tariffs imposed on goods entering the old colony, confederation would affect prices.

The commission government said the Canadian reply was that "in their opinion it would not be practicable to effect union before the 31st of March, 1949."

Newfoundlanders voted to join Canada in a referendum last month and Prime Minister King has announced the Old Colony will be accepted into union.

OTTAWA (CP)—Battle for the Progressive Conservative Party leadership next month may be more than a fight between Premier Drew of Ontario and John Diefenbaker, member of the Commons for Lake Centre in Saskatchewan.

A source in close touch with party affairs said there are several men who will be nominated and who will probably stand for election at the three-day convention starting Sept. 29.

Perjury Charged

SEATTLE (AP)—Prosecutor Lloyd Shorett filed a perjury charge today against one of the key witnesses at last month's hearing of the Washington State Legislature's un-American activities committee. He filed the charge against George Hewitt of New York, who testified to having been a Communist Party member from 1926 to 1944 and a former member of the party's national committee.

Will Not Ask Boost In Gas Rates If Bus Increases Given

The B.C. Electric Railway Company will not ask for any change in the present interim rate increase for gas service provided transportation fare increases are granted and no other rates for any service are disturbed.

This information was supplied the city today by the Public Utilities Commission.

The commission said the B.C. E.R. intends, at the coming public hearings on its general rate structure, to ask that the present interim gas rate increase be made final.

Separate hearings will be held here for Vancouver Island operations of the company, its associates and subsidiaries.

The company has asked that urban transportation fares for Greater Victoria be increased on the basis of four tickets costing 30 cents and single fares 10 cents, without a weekly pass.

It also has asked for an increase of 40 per cent in flat rates applied to residential water heating.

To Protest Prices

NANAIMO (CP)—A parade protesting the high cost of living will be held here Saturday by the Labor Progressive Party if the city police chief gives his permission. Archie E. Lewis representing the L.P.P., has made formal application for the parade to City Council, and the application has been referred to the Police Department for assent.

'Miss Victoria' To Be Selected At Dominion Theatre Next Week

The search for British Columbia's most beautiful girl is on.

A trip to Hollywood with her chaperone for the victor; an all-expense trip to Vancouver with chaperones for out-of-Vancouver finalists, stage appearances with Jimmy Durante in the great comedian's big show at the Pacific National Exhibition, a stage appearance at Vancouver's Orpheum Theatre and many other treasures await some 14 B.C. girls.

The Pacific National Exhibition, in conjunction with Famous Players Canadian theatres throughout the province, is stage-ing the contest to find "Miss P.N.E." to reign over the exhibition to be held from Aug. 25 to Sept. 6 inclusive.

MISS VICTORIA

Each major city in B.C. will elect a queen to participate in the finals in Vancouver. The contest to find "Miss Victoria" will be held at the Dominion Theatre Aug. 17, 18 and 19.

Victoria's most beautiful girl will be selected by ballots given to theatre-goers at the door. Voters will be asked to mark the name of the girl they consider to be most outstanding in beauty, poise, personality and general bearing.

Contestants will appear on the three nights, first in either summer playsuit attire, without hats, or evening wear. Then they will change to bathing suits before the audience makes a final decision in marking their ballots. There will be a stage show in conjunction with the parade of beauties.

In addition to the trip to Vancouver for Miss Victoria, several local merchants have donated prizes to finalists.

Entry forms can be obtained from Martin Cave, manager of the Dominion Theatre.

'Pirates' Entertain Young Victorians Aboard Sheffield

Under the guardian eye of a Sheffield "pirate" (Sub-Lt. D. Dixon), Pat McGoldrick, a cub from the James Bay Eagle pack, swooshes down to the quarterdeck on a breeches buoy. With Pat at the party were other members of the cub pack, children from the B.C. Protestant Orphanage, and other children who came under the sponsorship of Welfare House and the James Bay Sewing Club.

One hundred delighted young Victorians Monday afternoon played themselves to a satisfied tiredness at a children's party given by the visiting British cruiser H.M.S. Sheffield as part of the Navy Week celebrations. Here a sizeable portion of the youthful visitors are seen hustling about among the many attractions provided on the cruiser's quarterdeck, including a merry-go-round.

Unscheduled Civic Welcome As Mayor 'Misses The Boat'

It isn't often that the solemn occasion of a civic welcome goes awry, but it happened to Victoria's Mayor Percy George, who has extended his thanks to the R.C.N. for restoring his mayoral dignity without so much as batting an eyelash.

Mayor George recounted the story Monday afternoon at a civic luncheon given in honor of Navy Week and the visiting cruiser H.M.S. Sheffield.

As the mayor told it, the incident happened Saturday as the mayor prepared to pay his respects to Admiral Sir William Tennant, K.C.B., C.B.E., M.V.O., R.N., Commander-in-Chief, America and West Indies Station.

He put in a call for a police car to take him to Esquimalt and, having secured the services of an ex-navy police chauffeur, relaxed with the knowledge that everything was well-arranged. They went to Esquimalt and, in accordance with information in hand, proceeded to the end of Naden jetty, where they saw a cruiser. Being a "landlubber," said the mayor, he found that one cruiser looked very much like another to him.

He descended from the car and made his way to the gangplank, a "jackknife affair" that looked highly inaccessible, he recalled. But, he continued, he knew that the Lieutenant-Governor had preceded him in the courtesy calls and, making up his mind that if the Lieutenant-Governor could make it, so could the mayor of Victoria, proceeded to board the vessel.

Taking his top-hat firmly in one hand and a stanchion in the other, Mayor George clambered up to the gangway and skidded down the steep slope into the arms of Ontario's executive officer, Cmdr. P. D. Budge, D.S.C., R.C.N., who saved the occasion by the cordial welcome "We are indeed honored, Your Worship."

The mayor finally reached Sheffield only seven minutes late and his Monday account of the incident was a belated apology to Admiral Sir William for the delay.

Says Primary Needs Duty Of Community

Primary needs of food and clothing must be satisfied or personality cannot express itself and "we dare not speak of freedom," Roger Marier, assistant director of the School of Social Work at Laval University, told a group of social workers in Victoria Monday.

"It is the duty of a community to see that the basic needs of all its citizens are satisfied," he said. Lecturing for the summer at University of British Columbia, Mr. Marier spoke Monday morning and afternoon at a meeting of the Institute on Community Organization, sponsored jointly by the Community Welfare Council of Greater Victoria and the Vancouver Island Branch of the Canadian Association of Social Workers.

Discussing social work, he said the basis of the work was the principle of self-determination, with the social worker an "enabler" but not one who could do everything for the needy, without help from the needy themselves. He said methods of publicizing the complicated work of social workers should be improved.

Greek Girl Free, Family For B.C.

LONDON (CP)—Three times the Bolton family has canceled its journey to Oliver, B.C., to wait for a missing daughter-in-law from Greece. Now it can leave.

After a six-week struggle, former Quartermaster-Sergeant Philip Bolton succeeded in bringing his wife Dora Hioni to London from Athens where she had been detained by Greek authorities.

With his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Bolton, Philip and his bride are ready to sail for Canada next week. They plan to settle on a fruit farm at Oliver.

Philip met Dora in Athens when he was working with a British military mission. He later returned to England to arrange the wedding. The cake was ordered and guests invited, but the bride did not show up. She said she had been refused permission to leave Greece.

"They apparently suspected Dora of being a Communist," Philip told the Canadian Press. "And that of course was sheer nonsense. I gave up my job here and flew to Athens, where we were married. My money ran out so I worked with a military mission again until Dora was granted an exit visa. Now we're all set to go."

A hidden microphone in the diver's suit fooled the young visitors—but not for long. Insatiable curiosity soon discovered the trick. A "pirate" aids the investigation as Geoffrey Hanley and Bernard Paine pinch and wonder. Little Beverly Joan Smith, with so many things to attract her, has her attention elsewhere. The "pirate" is Sub-Lt. W. W. Riesberry, R.C.N.(R.), Toronto, who is taking his naval reserve training this summer aboard the Sheffield.

Wesley Jenkins proudly displays his "tattoos" to Lieut. John Taplin, Royal Marines, who is hidden behind a fierce moustache and a bright blue nose, as two of Victoria's younger female set look on in approval. The young ladies in the group are Emily Dendies, right, and Marilyn Baldwin.

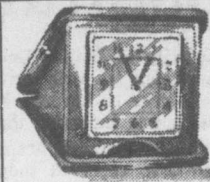

Counsel For Euler At Margarine Hearing

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator W. D. Euler, Liberal, Ontario, the country's No. 1 crusader for margarine, intends to carry his battle into the Supreme Court of Canada.

He will have legal counsel at the court's fall deliberation on the question of whether the ban against the butter substitute is legal under the constitution.

The government recently asked the court for a ruling.

Senator Euler obtained Senate approval of a request to the government to do just that. He also tried three times without success to have the Senate recommend an end of the ban.

10,000 Canadian, U.S. Legion Members To Celebrate Peace

FORT ERIE, Ont. (CP)—More than 10,000 Canadian and American legionnaires will invade this border town Aug. 12-15 inclusive to commemorate 135 years of peace between Canada and the United States.

The veterans' international peace encampment will be the largest gathering of United States and Canadian veterans since before the Second World War.

Some 50,000 persons, besides the legionnaires, are expected to attend the four-day conclave, which also is intended "to give a public showing of concern" over Communistic activities overseas, in Canada and the United States.

"It is high time that we veterans of two great freedom-loving nations remove our blinders and present to the world our United objections to such high-handed methods of conquest as are being witnessed in various parts of the world today," said Phillip Dyke, chairman of the Canadian committee.

"We intend to pass resolutions which will go to the proper places telling the world just how the men who helped win World War 1 and 2 feel about such methods of penetration and conquest," he said. "The Communists believe in mass demonstrations, so we plan to take a leaf from their book in this respect and show them anti-Communists, too can really en masse."

Search Cost $300 For Boy Not Lost In Ontario Wilds

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP)—Provincial police said today 15-year-old Billy Larochelle, believed lost in the bush for 48 hours over the week-end, wasn't lost at all.

They said the lad, object of an intensive ground and air search, told them he had gone on a trip to Pembroke and had spent a night in the Ottawa district town about 125 miles east of North Bay.

After he had showed up at his home Monday, Billy told a story of being lost in the North Bay area. He said that on Saturday night he slept on the ground and spent Sunday night in a tree while on a berry-picking expedition.

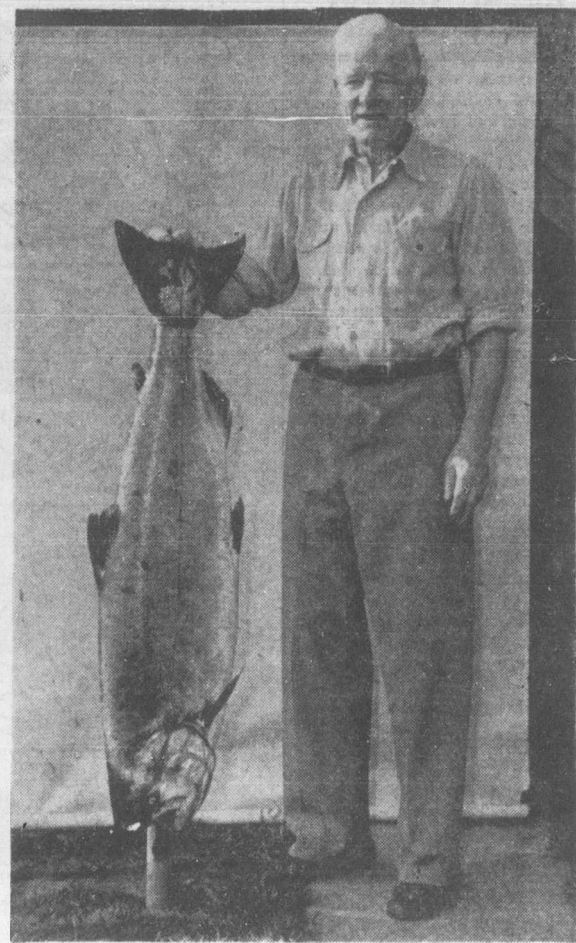

The search was carried on around Dreamy Lake, about six miles east of North Bay. A 100-man squad searched the bush and an aircraft also took part. It was estimated the search cost about $300.

Liberal Party, Attorney-General Wisner said today.

"It is very refreshing to see the changes in the attitudes of the other provinces, especially the central ones, toward B.C. problems," he said.

"St. Laurent is without doubt the right man in the right place. No question of any 'oldness' about him. He was full of vigor and fire," he added.

Gold Button Winner

Pete Hill, 824 Ellery Street, poses with the 45-pound spring salmon he cruised in Saanich Inlet's waters off Stone House Saturday evening. It is the biggest spring salmon taken in a number of years in the sport-fishing grounds by a member of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association and earns the angler his gold button. If this weight is not beaten Hill wins the 1948 big-fish championship of the association, giving him the Melrose Cup and a diamond in the eye of the salmon embossed on the button. The Hill catch was the second gold-button size fish taken this year in the inlet, the other, a 41½-pounder, being reeled in by fireman Bob Eastham.

Independence Of Hyderabad Held As Threat To India

Many Difficulties To Delay Completion Of Canadian Highway

OTTAWA (CP)—Resources Minister MacKinnon said in an interview it would be some years before a trans-Canada highway is constructed.

He commented Monday night on a statement by Trade Minister Howe Saturday that the government intended calling a Dominion-provincial conference on the project some time this fall.

Mr. MacKinnon said some of the difficulties were:

1. A shortage of labor.
2. Tremendous cost of such a highway.
3. Problem of where the route should be.

The Resources Minister said that some months ago he had advocated the highway should be built to attract a greater tourist trade from the United States. He envisioned the road as not necessarily following a line close to the border, but having feeder roads leading to border points.

Favorable Comment On St. Laurent By Commonwealth Press

LONDON (CP)—The London News Chronicle said today in an editorial that the Canadian Liberal Party "has made an impressive choice" in electing Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent as leader in succession to Prime Minister King.

Surveying the "grave economic difficulties in Canada," the News Chronicle said that if St. Laurent "addresses himself to these problems in the same spirit which he has already displayed, he may well add success at home to eminence abroad."

"Canada and the world are already indebted to the French-speaking province for one notable leader of a great people—Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It may be that we shall soon be acknowledging our debt a second time."

The paper says "nothing can be more conducive to Canadian unity than a rhythm of alternating leadership—French and English-speaking—of the dominant parties."

AUSTRALIAN VIEWS

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Selection of Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent to succeed Prime Minister King as leader of the Liberal Party of Canada received favorable press comment throughout Australia.

Most newspapers carried a photograph accompanied by summaries of his career. The Sydney Daily Telegraph ran a feature article in which Mr. St. Laurent is described as "urbane, decorous, scholarly, with reassuring personal charm and a reputation for integrity."

Poland, Czechoslovakia Plan Speed-up In Trade

WARSAW (AP)—Poland and Czechoslovakia have completed plans to step up trade and the inter-relationship of their industries during the next five years. A communiqué said trade would reach 9,000,000,000 crowns ($180,000,000) annually by 1953, three times the volume for the last year.

First Poliomyelitis Death In Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP)—The first death from poliomyelitis in Manitoba this year was reported today by the Provincial Department of Health and Welfare. There were seven deaths from the disease in 1947.

A 23-year-old Winnipeg man died Saturday in hospital. He was one of the 12 persons—eight of them adults—in the province stricken by the disease so far this year.

Fire Stops Traffic

OTTAWA (CP)—Hundreds of persons were late for work today, stopped by a $15,000 fire on busy mid-town Bank Street. Starting in an apartment, the blaze ate into four shops. Fifteen persons were evacuated. The fire started about 8:30 a.m., delaying traffic on the capital's main thoroughfare for more than an hour.

Resort Hotel Burns

HALIBURTON, Ont. (CP)—At the height of the tourist season, Len Chapman today surveyed ruins of his Holiday Inn Lodge on nearby Kashagawigamog Lake Bay. None of the 60 holidayers were in the lodge when it burned to the ground in a $10,000 fire. More than $1,000 in cash went up in flames.

THERE IS HOPE

DIPLOMATIC CONFERENCES WHICH have been held in Moscow over the past week have lacked the dramatic aspects of the Berlin blockade, the gigantic western air transport measure to feed the former German capital, the fortification of the Soviet zone border and similar moves in the international game of thrust and parry. Necessarily cloaked in secrecy, the talks have provided little but speculation for the news-hungry public; but their importance to the future life of each one of us may far exceed the more spectacular events of the "cold war" front. For from these discussions of British, French and American representatives with Premier Stalin and Foreign Minister Molotov may come the program that will shape the course of Germany, of Europe and of the world. Failure of the talks could have an equally vital effect; for history might well record such a failure as one of the steps that led to the commencement of a World War III.

It would appear that the present exchanges have involved discussion of whether or not a full-scale conference on Germany can be held at a later date rather than an attempt to solve the German problem itself. Although to the layman the proceedings may appear to be indirect and befouled in red tape, there must be, according to diplomatic usage, a full play of offers, acceptances, definition of the agenda and terms of reference, and other moves designed to protect the "face" and fortunes of the negotiating parties. But regardless of all the preliminary manoeuvring and sparring, a great deal of progress will have been made if Russia can be coaxed out of her intransigent position—if the currency and partition problems of postwar Germany can be removed from the dangerous area of blockade, recrimination and the mailed fist, and brought to the council table for intelligent solution.

A four-power conference on Germany appears to be what the Kremlin wants, although Stalin and his advisors have taken a circuitous and somewhat Asiatic method of letting us know. If such a conference eventuates from the present talks, it is to be hoped that it will be more fruitful than previous similar gatherings in Moscow, London and Lake Success—and less marked by the uncompromising insistence of the Russian delegates that their way be followed to the exclusion of any other.

ABLE AND VERSATILE "MIKE"

AS WAS TO BE EXPECTED, ONE OF the earliest predictions as to the person who will succeed Mr. St. Laurent when he assumes the mantle of the Prime Minister is the extremely capable and versatile Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs, Mr. L. B. ("Mike") Pearson.

It would be the antithesis of good form to suggest what the new leader of the National Liberal Party should do or whom he should choose to assist him in his ministerial capacity. It is, nevertheless, unnecessary to apologize for the suggestion that Mr. Pearson's record in the postwar international realm, first as Counsellor to the Canadian Embassy in Washington, and afterward as our ambassador there, and chairman of several important committees of the United Nations, equips him adequately for a much higher position in the service of his native land—a position signalized in his recent role as Mr. St. Laurent's right-hand man in the Department of External Affairs.

Mr. Pearson possesses that faculty of getting to the heart of things, whether national or international, without the use of pleasant-sounding platitudes and palaver. He says what he thinks when he thinks it; and his fearlessness is a quality which this young nation requires at this vital stage of its progress. Let it be understood, however, that to Mr. St. Laurent alone must be left the choice of those by whom he will surround himself when he finally assumes the role of Prime Minister.

M.P.'S LIVING COSTS

THOSE MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF Commons who live within a relatively few miles of the national capital do not experience anything like the financial difficulties with which those from the Maritimes or the western provinces are confronted for anywhere from five to seven months of the year. To the average man and woman in the street, of course, $6,000 a year for half a year's active discharge of public duties may seem quite a large sum. What is often forgotten is that it costs a member of the House of Commons anywhere between $75 and $100 a week to live in Ottawa and do what he or she is expected to do. Small wonder, therefore, that dozens of public-spirited citizens who might contribute usefully to the conduct of the nation's affairs hesitate to make the plunge into the turbulent waters of national politics.

Because it has accumulated a good deal of information about the demands made on members of the House of Commons, the Senate, and the nine provincial legislatures, the London Free Press recently discussed—to put it plainly—the rate of pay of the elected representatives of the people. Our Ontario contemporary has taken specific notice of the resignation of two prominent political figures, and argues that such resignations "should serve to bring home to the public generally a full appreciation of the fact that politics is a poor-paying job." The Free Press then adds this concluding paragraph:

"After all, an M.P. and M.L.A. and a Cabinet Minister are all servants of the state. The laborer, or servant, should be worthy of his hire. If the state rate of hire is insufficient, then the laborer goes elsewhere."

The danger resident in this plain statement of fact is not far to seek. There may come a day, unless conditions undergo a very substantial change, when the national forum may become a more or less exclusive club for men and women capable of financing two homes—one in Ottawa and the other somewhere east or west of what are known as the central provinces. Nothing in the foregoing conflicts with the obvious economics of public life. We advance the argument solely, as the London Free Press has advanced it, because the increased and increasing cost of living affects the elected representatives just as it does everybody else. And when we say everybody else we have in the back of our minds the potent fact that those who are entitled to attach M.P. or M.L.A. to their names are considered fair game for practically every appeal, regardless of its merits.

MUSICAL ACQUISITION

THE IMPRESSIVE MUSICAL BACKGROUND of Mr. Hans Gruber, whose appointment as conductor of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra was announced yesterday, indicates that this city has obtained the services of a young man who should make a marked contribution to the musical life of the community. And a survey of his personal qualities—his wide European experience, his mastery of half a dozen languages, his scholastic and other achievements—gives promise that Victoria will have gained a valuable new resident when Mr. Gruber makes his home here. Although only 24 years of age, his musical education began 18 years ago in Vienna, and is being continued at present in San Francisco, under Pierre Monteux, conductor of the Symphony Orchestra of that city. His arrival in Victoria at the end of August will be a welcome event for citizens generally, and in particular for the newly-incorporated Victoria Symphony Society, whose members are to be congratulated on the new arrangement.

WHAT OF ALBERTA?

ONE OF THE MOST STRIKING DEVELOPMENTS in the provincial general election campaign in Alberta is the fact that the Liberal Party—which had no candidates in the contest in 1944—will have no fewer than 49 battling for seats in the next Legislature. It is not in the least surprising that the Social Credit Party should have candidates entered for each one of the 57 seats which constitute the provincial House.

What every Canadian observer of the political scene will watch, however, will be the character of the campaign which the C.C.F. Party conducts. At dissolution there was not a single member of Mr. Coldwell's Socialist group in the House at Edmonton. Nor is it likely that Socialist nominees in this contest will fare any better than they did in 1944. At the same time, it must be admitted that while the administration of Premier Manning seems to have given Albertans good service, he must realize that the original promise of his predecessor and mentor, Mr. Aberhart, deluded most of the people most of the time.

After all, the government of Alberta, doing business under the nomenclature of Social Credit, seems to have dropped all the policies upon which the ordinary men and women of that province originally had placed their faith. For example, $25 a month sounded very promising, and seemed to guarantee that type of social security for which the average man and woman in the street was ready to vote; but there is still no payment of $25 per month. Therefore, what is puzzling most Canadians, particularly those in the west, is what kind of program the Socialist Party of Canada can present to Albertans that will wean them away from a government which, though not having lived up to its tenets, seems to have given a fairly satisfactory administration. As British Columbians, however, this is none of our business.

But in view of the fact that so many people from Saskatchewan—the alleged Eldorado of Canada's first provincial experiment in Socialism—and likewise from Alberta, have come to live in British Columbia, one is compelled to believe that the system of conducting public affairs in this far western province conforms to the composite desire of any intelligent population.

COULD BE TOUGH

ONE OF THE WAGS WHO TOOK TO the airways to talk about the new leader of the National Liberal Party suggested that it was impossible for Mr. St. Laurent to get tough. Another, who evidently was speaking from first-hand information, said he had spoken with one most intimately associated with the Secretary of State for External Affairs who said he certainly could get tough. But Mr. St. Laurent always made it quite clear to himself, and even more clear to those with whom he might be engaged in some controversy, that he had to be convinced in his own mind that he was right. Then, if the circumstances warranted it, he really could be tough. So be it!

You shouldn't take chances after 50. To live long, get a chronic ailment and take good care of it.

First Radar Harbor

By E. C. MAYSON

THE WORLD'S FIRST specially designed radar system for harbor supervision was officially put into commission July 31, at England's great port of Liverpool.

Although another United Kingdom port, that of Douglas, in the Isle of Man, was actually the first port to use radar for the supervision of ships entering and leaving harbor, the radar set employed is an ordinary ship's set. This installation is adequate for ports such as Douglas, where the approaches offer few pilotage problems and the docks are adjacent to the sea, but totally inadequate for a major port such as Liverpool with its great traffic density. The Liverpool radar equipment is, in fact, a complex machinery that gives a complete picture of the 12 miles of narrow, tortuous fairway between the bar lighthouse and the dock. Costing between £30,000 to £40,000, it was designed, tested and built in only 18 months—a very notable achievement in the opinion of harbor authorities.

THE NEW RADAR INSTALLATION has uses beyond the ability to direct ships safely into dock in foggy or bad weather. In the first place, it ensures that more vessels can use the channel at one time, thus providing a quicker turnaround. Second, it will reduce delay costs—a delay of one hour may easily extend to the loss of a tide which would cost an average vessel some £400. The installation will, furthermore, afford the port authorities exact continuous observation of all shipping within the port area and approaches up to a 20-mile range. It will also enable them to check positions of all floating navigational marks—in place of the previous method of a physical check every few days—and it will give instantaneous information of any shipping casualty or any dangerous obstruction in the channel approaches.

THE COMPLETE radar installation—which is based at the northwest corner of Gladstone Dock—consists of a 15-foot wide rotating scanner mounted on top of an 80-foot ferro-concrete tower similar in appearance to a lighthouse. A building adjacent to the base of the tower contains a radar transmitter and receiver equipment and all other services necessary to operate the system. As the tower is built on shore, 20 feet above sea-level, the height of the scanner is 100 feet above sea-level. From this position the scanner has an unrestricted view covering the whole of Liverpool Bay and about three miles up the river (as far as Princes Landing Stage). The scanner has special heaters built in to prevent icing and has been stressed to resist wind velocities up to 100 m.p.h. It is driven by a 6 h.p. motor, and during each six-second rotation it obtains the echo of every object within 20 miles and these echoes are reproduced on six screens in the radar display room. The drive mechanism of the scanner is housed in a weatherproof room at the top of the tower which will enable personnel to carry out maintenance work under shelter.

THE TWO MAIN UNITS in the radar control room are the display console and a cupboard containing transmitter-receiver equipment. The intricate, complicated radar devices are all housed in a gleaming white cabinet. Each of the six display units are constructed separately in order to simplify repairs and maintenance. If one set should go out of action the unit is merely removed and replaced with a spare.

One of the six display screens shows a small-scale, true-plan view of the whole of Liverpool Bay, giving a normal maximum range of 20 miles out to sea. The next four displays each show a view of a sector of the channel on a scale four times greater than that of the general display. These enlarged scale displays are of a new type which shows a precision picture of a selected part of the channel and gives a true plan presentation without distortion. The areas covered by these displays slightly overlap each other so that a continuous large-scale picture of the whole approach channel and the estuary is given. The sixth, known as the "wandering display," gives a large-scale plan picture of a sector which can be moved to cover any part of Liverpool Bay. This is particularly valuable as it can be switched to 22 different positions and can be used to provide additional cover of any area where congestion is severe.

A NUMBER of overseas countries are showing considerable interest in this new safety harbor radar supervisor. The ports of Basra and Antwerp, for example, are already studying specifications with a view to installing similar equipment. Installation of this equipment would be simple in any part of the world as the set now based in Liverpool has been designed for universal application. It is expected that many other major ports in the United Kingdom, including the Port of London, will be similarly equipped in the near future.

Perpetual Motion—Or A Reasonable Facsimile

Everyone Has A Stake

By BURTON S. HEATH From New York

A RECENT issue of the C.I.O.'s "Outlook" is devoted to proving that a "mere handful" of persons control this nation's big corporations. About one out of every 20 adults own corporation stock, the C.I.O.'s Department of Research and Education reports belittlingly.

So what is that designed to prove? That ordinary Americans are a have-not people? Name some other country in which one out of 20 owns corporation stock, and there'll be at least ground for debate.

SILLY Is the C.I.O. trying to make it appear that the American worker doesn't have enough, after existing, to invest in stocks? The enormous investment in insurance, savings accounts, war bonds makes that silly. So does the almost unbelievable spending on amusements, recreation, travel, liquor, racetrack gambling and the like.

The real reason for this report, in the midst of third round wage demands, looks rather clear. It seems to be an attempt to suggest that the average American, having no corporate stock in his name, shouldn't worry if wage boosts squeeze profits out of company operations.

BELOW THE BELT

That is hitting below the belt. The C.I.O.'s economists are smart, well-informed men. They know that every American has a direct stake in the profitable operation of the country's industry and commerce.

They know that there would be no wages at all, big or small, if there weren't employment. They know that there can be employment only as long as business can make—or look forward to making—enough profit to attract capital to finance the maintenance and replacement and expansion of plant.

And they know more than that. They know that tens of millions have savings accounts, and that the savings banks mostly are mutual—which means that they are owned by their depositors. They know that huge chunks of assets are invested in corporate bonds and stocks—that the monthly interest, and even the safety of the principal—depends on corporate profits.

The life insurance companies have $46,500,000,000 invested. That money is not J. P. Morgan's, or John D. Rockefeller's, or U.S. Steel's. It is every man's and his neighbor's. The poorer the neighbor is, the more probability that this money of his, saved and invested through an insurance company, is his protection against an unmarked grave in Potter's Field.

Of that money, $15,700,000,000 is in corporate stocks and bonds. Its income is from corporate profits. Its safety depends upon profitable corporate operation.

Don't let the C.I.O. or anybody else get away with the statement that the American wage-earner doesn't have a direct, selfish interest in corporate profits, merely because he chooses to put his money into savings, insurance, government bonds, instead of common stocks. Whoever tries to say that is either ignorant or vicious.

More Than A Good Provider

By JOSEPH LISTER RUTLEDGE

THE other day we heard of a Pole who had been in Canada for a number of years, had done well here in a small business, and had made friends. Yet he was going back to Poland.

GOING HOME

He liked it here, he admitted, he was happy. But he was going home. He was quite ready to admit that most of his friends had scattered. Oh yes, he knew, too, that conditions were bad in Poland. But he kept coming back to his one reason: "Things are bad in Poland, but they will be all right."

Somehow, remembering that small incident, one can't help the reflection that in one place at least communism has been more successful than democracy. It has given people hope.

ALWAYS ANOTHER

Year after year Russia suffered and followed a five-year plan. It didn't materialize, but there was always another five-year plan ahead—some promise of ultimate good. "Things are bad, but they will be all right."

Democracy provides us its advantages as we went. They are there, something to be used. We accept them almost without thought because they are an actuality, not a golden dream of some future, perhaps impossible, hope. The difference is between the thing you have, and the thing you hope to have.

We don't know whether it is possible to change democracy or whether it would be wise to do so, if we could.

SET A VALUE

But surely we must all believe that if an ugly creed can make so many converts it is time we set a value on our own, that it may seem to be worth while to thoughtless millions to whom it now stands only for the good provider. We must have learned that it takes more than that to make it stir the heart.

Relic Of The Great Plague

By PHILIP DALY

ON the outskirts of a western country village, there is a dense wood, called Lucombe. As boys, we always referred to it as "No Man's Land," and we organized many expeditions to explore it. Many is the time I have returned home with my shirt and trousers torn, expecting the hiding that never came.

All I had to say to my mother was: "I've been exploring Lucombe Wood, Mum," and immediately her attitude would change, and in a cold voice she would simply ask me not to go there again, because it was not nice.

And this always puzzled me, but it was only in recent years that I discovered her real reason. The story goes back exactly five centuries, to the year 1348.

In the spring of that year, Lucombe Wood was a small, mediæval village, teeming with life. The inhabitants had tilled their land and planted their meagre crops; in the little Norman church overlooking their village, they prayed for a good harvest, but not one of them lived to gather it in. What happened is tragically simple. In 1348, a plague, known as the Black Death, swept away fully a quarter of Europe—about 25,000,000 people, and the inhabitants of this little village of Lucombe perished to a man.

CLOSED AND EMPTY

For years afterwards, the door of this Norman church remained closed; the painted box-pews empty. Outside in the deserted village, grass and shrub overran the narrow streets, and, one by one, the roofs of the thatched cottages fell in as the whole place mouldered to decay.

Years later—perhaps centuries later—another village sprang up, not on the site of the old one, but about a mile further up the hill, on the other side of the church. Once again, the old church door creaked as the strangers from the new village filed into the painted box-pews. Soon they built a wall round the church, cutting it off completely from the old, silent village, and then in the course of time the church, too, was deserted, and a more modern one built in the new village.

Today, this old church, with its low, square tower at one end and its little sanctuary at the other, is used only for an annual service and an occasional burial.

EXPLORER

In one of its many tombs lie the mother and father of Captain Scott of Antarctic fame, who, as a boy, lived in this small village. Probably he, too, explored Lucombe Wood, and if he did, also, must have felt that same old sense of guilt as he battled his way through this tangled shroud of wilderness, beneath which sleeps a forgotten village with its dead, unseen and unknown.

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

ROMANIAN refugees in Turkey report that a plebiscite is to be held in their country late this month to determine whether it shall become a member of the Soviet Union.

Should this prove to be true it will mean that Russia is starting the annexation—long expected by observers—of her eastern European satellites. Such an expansion of the Soviet empire would further consolidate her grip on that half of the continent and pave the way for fresh efforts at further moves towards the English Channel.

Should Romania vote to "join" the Soviet Union, the refugees say, the Romanian parliament will be dissolved and delegates to Moscow will be named instead.

POSE OF LEGALITY

This column previously has forecast that Moscow in due course would annex the satellite states, whose governments already have been ousted in favor of Communist regimes. There is no doubt that Russia would have done so already, as in the case of the three little Baltic states, but for the fact that she now is dealing with larger and sturdier powers, and furthermore, wishes to maintain a pose of legality so as not to create fear and hostility among prospective victims.

The indications are that Moscow is getting "anxious" because of the discontent and resistance which are running through the satellites. It behooves the Soviet Union to move fast if she is to maintain that Stettin-Adriatic line which she has forced through the heart of Europe by her conquest of the countries now behind the iron curtain.

STRATEGIC IMPORTANCE

If you will take a look at your map of eastern Europe you will see the strategic importance of annexing Romania with her population of close to 16,000,000. She is bounded on the north by the U.S.S.R., on the east by the Soviet Ukraine and the Black Sea, on the west by Yugoslavia and Hungary and on the south by Bulgaria. With Romania in the fold, Russia will to all intents and purposes have moved her frontiers up against the three important neighboring satellites.

They come next for annexation. It's the old game of pyramiding.

Russia's need of consolidating her position quickly is fully reflected in the international Danubian conference now being held in Belgrade. The Soviet bloc, headed by Moscow, proposes to take over complete control of that great and important waterway, to the exclusion of the western powers—America, Britain and France.

ARCTIC PATROL

Windsor Star

Younger brother of Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, Rev. Colin Montgomery, has been appointed canon of the diocese of the Arctic. As the diocese is one of the largest in the world, before coming to Canada the younger brother should take some lessons from the elder as to how to cover ground rapidly.

ACTUAL CONDITION

Calgary Herald

There is no doubt that Canadians have the will to fight, the resolution to defend themselves. But they must be aroused, and strengthened. There must be more than well-meant sentiment in the phrase of our national anthem, "O Canada, we stand on guard for thee." It must be an actual condition.

PAINFUL JOKE

The Times of London

In the past the sandwich has been looked upon in the main as a humble and ordinary sustainer of life, delicious as certain subtle varieties of it can be. Its origin is said to be noble in the literal sense, since it takes its name from that fourth Earl of Sandwich, unfavorably known as Jimmy Twitchee, who ate it in quantities when he did not desire to interrupt his gambling in order to partake of a more formal meal. At one time the railway refreshment buffet sandwich was the subject of obvious and uninteresting jokes, which sound all the more pointless today because many of us would be glad to meet any ham sandwich, however stale. As for the more succulent kind, produced in lunch bars after the barman had shouted into the speaking-tube, "Am for a round!" the mere memory of them makes the mouth water. Some aberrations of the human mind become a rather painful joke in times like the buffet sandwiches of Victorian days.

Victoria Entertains Officers Of British, Canadian Navies

The City of Victoria, in observance of Navy Week, on Monday played host to officers of the Royal Navy, Royal Canadian Navy and Royal Marines at a civic luncheon.

Mayor Percy George in opening the series of brief addresses made at the luncheon, paid his respects to the work of both the R.N. and R.C.N. He spoke of the susceptibility of Greater Victoria to the activities, tradition and heritage of the navy and had special praise for the work of the two navies, thanking the R.C.N. in particular for its spirit of comradeship and esprit de corps in its connections with the city council.

He took advantage of the occasion to say good-bye to Admiral E. R. Mainguy, O.B.E., R.C.N., who is shortly leaving his post here as Flag Officer Pacific Coast to go to Halifax as Flag Officer there. He also welcomed Capt. H. S. Rayner, D.S.C., R.C.N., who recently took over command of H.M.C.S. Royal Roads, the tri-service college.

100TH ANNIVERSARY

In his address, the mayor remarked on the fact that this year marks the 100th anniversary of the arrival of H.M.S. Constance, first British ship into Esquimalt Harbor, which was the occasion of the establishment of Esquimalt as a naval base.

Mayor George was followed by the Vice-Admiral Sir William Tennant, K.C.B., C.B.E., M.V.O., R.N., Commander-in-Chief, West Indies and America Station, who told the luncheon meeting that he recognized Victoria's claim to being a far-flung bit of Britain. Victoria is so much so, the admiral humorously added, that here they even put on the extra "wooly" during summer.

In recalling the statement made on his arrival that his visit to Victoria was a 39-year-old dream, Admiral Tennant said that at the time he made the application for posting here he was informed that 150 sub-lieutenants had also applied. Of these, he continued, one was married . . . and that one was sent here. "It just goes to show what a diseased sense of humor they have in these high offices."

In speaking of the navy's future, he had no doubt of its continued importance and said that the only difference between now and 40 years ago was that air escort had become necessary.

Using the recent war as an example of the navy's value, he pointed out that Hitler, like Napoleon, had considered the English Channel crossing for invasion purposes, but had come to the same conclusion, "he just didn't have enough navy."

ANSCOMB PRAISES U.K.

Admiral Tennant was followed by Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb, acting B.C. premier, who told the naval gathering that, without Britain's aid, the Empire could never have been saved . . . in fact, perhaps the whole of civilization.

He paid tribute to Britain for her gifts to Canada of her independence, with all the natural resources and potentialities, together with continued naval and military protection.

"You certainly don't owe any debt to Canada . . . the debt is owed the other way," he told the officers of the visiting British cruiser Sheffield.

Admiral Mainguy made a very brief speech in answer to the compliments of Mayor George. "All I want to say is 'Thank you very much, indeed.'"

However, he did add one wish that Greater Victorians might in future be a little more understanding in their regards towards naval behavior. "When they see one sailor misbehaving downtown, I wish they would try to remember that there are at least a thousand who are not noticed because they are behaving themselves," he said.

Included among those at the head table were: Capt. Rayner, Cmdr. J. C. I. Edwards, C.B.E., R.C.N.; Acting Premier Anscomb; Admiral Tennant; Mayor George; Admiral Maniguy, Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., C.B., D.S.O., M.C.; Capt. G. B. H. Fawkes, C.B.E., R.N., commanding officer, H.M.S. Sheffield; Ald. J. D. Hunter, and Capt. H. C. D. MacLean, D.S.C., R.N., Sheffield executive officer.

Ald. Williams Sees Sights Of England

Ald. Ed. Williams, senior member of the City Council and chairman of the finance committee, who is on four-months' leave-of-absence from civic duties, is spending August touring England.

The alderman said in a letter received at the City Hall today weather in his native Cornwall has been excellent and that he has purchased a new car in which to see the whole of the country.

"I am going to tour as far as the gasoline ration will permit," he said in the letter forwarded from Penzance, Cornwall.

3 Escape Unhurt In Saanich Accident

An estimated $300 worth of damage was done to a car driven by Carl Neilson, Piedmont Avenue, in an accident Monday, in which three persons in the vehicle escaped unhurt, according to Saanich police.

Mr. Neilson was driving the car out of his driveway when it got out of control, careened through 110 feet of bush and wound up on its side at the bottom of a 10-foot embankment, Constable D. Shepherd, who attended with Constable R. Coleman, reported. Also in the car were Mrs. Neilson and Walter Polson, Delmonde Road.

Correspondent's Wife And Daughter Return To Jerusalem

By BETTE DAVIDSON

JERUSALEM (AP)—Most of my friends who went through the siege of Jerusalem told me "the truth" will hold this time, if you are back."

Since I am the wife of Carter L. Davidson, Associated Press correspondent, who had sent me out of Jerusalem with my seven-year-old daughter to avoid the rigors of war, most of my friends felt a new hope for peace when we reappeared.

We're the first non-Palestinians to come back to the Holy City after its latest baptism of fire.

But as friends greeted us, there were sounds of rifle shots and machine-gun bursts across the city. One of my daughter's friends asked, as Becky Jane jumped "Are you afraid, Becky?" Embarrassed, Becky did not answer, so her little friend said: "I'm not afraid any longer. Only shells scare me, and those we hear now are only bullets."

After our drive from the coast on a dusty, bumpy bypass known locally as the "Burma Road," we went directly to the Associated Press office in the Pantiles Hotel. Its balconies had been hit by shell fire and lay in ruins at my feet.

My husband and some other newspaper men stayed on in this hotel—despite its front line position—because it was almost the only place in Jerusalem with a private cistern. They could have baths when other Jerusalemites were sweltering.

We checked in at another hotel where there still was "service." There we found that we could have only a single pitcher of water a day for washing, the telephone was not working, and the only light was from kerosene lamps.

Shopping in Jerusalem is a harrowing and frustrating experience. Shops have reopened, but they haven't got much to sell. Many of them have gaping shell holes in the walls and most windows are gone. Prices are mostly on a "what-the-traffic-will-bear" basis.

The people of Jerusalem are busily trying to clean up their houses, yards and streets, but without water it seems a hopeless task. Gardens once beautiful are garbage dumps.

Jerusalem, the Holy City, will never be the same again.

Treat yourself to some handy kitchen shortcuts this summer. Keep a shelf well stocked with quick mixes for pies, puddings, cakes, gingerbread and the like. They are all great timesavers.

Salt Spring Couple Honored On Golden Anniversary

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. Youds, on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary, a surprise party was given by friends and neighbors, at their North Salt Spring Island home.

A corsage bouquet of sweet peas was presented to Mrs. Youds and, on behalf of those present, Mrs. J. Welford presented the honored couple with a 21-piece china tea service.

Refreshments were served from a table centred with a three-tier wedding cake, flanked with vases of sweet peas and love-in-a-mist.

Mr. and Mrs. Youds were married at Owm's Church, St. Helens, Lancaster, Eng., and came to Canada in 1929, living in Vancouver and for the past eight years on Salt Spring Island.

They have two sons, Norman and Donald, Salt Spring Island; two daughters, Mrs. A. E. Jenkins and Mrs. J. Lawnsborough, Vancouver, and one daughter, Mrs. W. Chorley, Clefmont, Eng.

Those present at the party were Mr. and Mrs. E. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. E. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. F. Westcott, Mr. and Mrs. S. Bannister, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Akerman, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Youds, Mesdames V. Bettis, J. Smart, A. J. Sutton and Norman Youds.

Paris Presents New Hourglass Silhouette

PARIS (AP)—Fall fashions now being shown by Robert Piquet and Charles Montaigne are a further indication that high, chin-hugging waistlines are going to be the vogue this fall.

These dioretoire collars are seen on every coat in the Montaigne collection. They are open-faced with short-haired fur such as leopard or seal.

Both houses feature blouses with Tallyrand collars of satin or taffeta that cup the chin and lend a Parisian touch to dressy black suits.

Robert Piquet employs a high empire waistline on all his dresses and coats but, instead of the skirts falling straight from this bust-level line as they did in the days of Josephine, he molds them into a Princess silhouette with the most indented waistline seen thus far in the fall shows.

His models have a definite hour-glass look. The skirts fall smoothly over the hips and are mildly flared. Montaigne, on the other hand, has introduced occasionally intricate hip drapery and even a barrel silhouette.

En route to the Canadian Bar Association annual meeting in Montreal this month, Mr. Arthur Parson Dawe, accompanied by his sons, Arthur Dudley and Peter, left Victoria Saturday on a motor tour of leading American mid-west and southern cities. The party will return across Canada in early September.

To fancy up a batch of plain muffins the easy way, place a spoonful of orange marmalade and some chopped toasted almonds in the bottom of each greased muffin cup. Then spoon in the batter and bake as usual.

Wedding, Late August—To Live In Wisconsin

MR. WALTER CHARLES COOPER

MISS FRANCES V. LAW

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Law, 1534 Yale Street, have announced the engagement of their elder daughter, Frances Victoria, to Mr. Walter Charles Cooper, elder son of Mrs. W. Cooper, 251 Government Street, and the late Mr. Cooper. The wedding will take place on Aug. 28 in First United Church at 3 o'clock. Miss Law is a member of the staff of the Provincial Civil Service Commission. Her fiancé is at present completing studies for his Ph.D. degree in chemistry at Princeton University, where he is affiliated with the Sigma Xi Fraternity. The young couple will live in Madison, Wis., following the wedding, where Mr. Cooper has been appointed to the staff of the University of Wisconsin.

Quintette Of Maids Form Attractive Wedding Entourage

A trio of senior attendants and two dainty flower girls were in the bridal entourage of Miss Lillian Loreen Baxter, when she exchanged vows with William Clarence Prior, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Prior, 1326 Haultain Street, Saturday evening at St. John's Church.

For the effective candlelit ceremony performed by Rev. C. B. Price, white tulle bows centred with gladioli and gypsophila marked the guest pews, and standards were placed at the chancel.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Baxter, 1110 Princess Avenue.

Her white satin gown, princess mode, was made with bustle-effect over the full-flared skirt, a sweetheart neckline topped the sheer yoke and the long fitted sleeves were pointed above the wrists. Clouds of illusion net billowed into a full train from her Mary Stuart headdress, set with orange blossoms on either side, and she wore a double strand pearl necklace. Pink roses and sweet peas, white carnations and swansons were showered in her cascade bouquet.

The groom's brother waited with him at the chancel rail. Escorting guests to their pews were George Inrig and Alex Stewart.

Mrs. Ralph Baxter, her sister-in-law's honor maid, wore chartreuse moire bengaline, in off-shoulder mode, with bustle-detailing at the back of the full skirt. Her coronet, set with pearls, held a chapel veil to match her gown and she carried a Pearly pink gladioli and carnations.

Twins in blush pink and ice-blue brocaded satin were maids, Mildred Hick who carried pink carnations and blue larkspur, and Geraldine Nash, with pink carnations and pink larkspur in her bouquet. Their chapel veils, held by pearl coronets, matched their bustle-backed frocks.

Palest pink organza frocked charming flower maids, Dorothy Ellen and Sarah Jane Smethurst, who traveled from Walla Walla, Wash., to attend their cousin. Their headdresses of pink roses, blue cornflowers and sweet peas, matched the blossoms in their colonial bouquets.

Pink and white gladioli and carnations decorated the reception room at the Y.W.C.A., where the young couple, with their parents, welcomed friends and relatives. Toast to the bride was proposed by J. E. Jones.

Pink tapers in candelabra lighted the bride's table, decorated with pink rosebuds, and centred with a three-tier cake. Serviteurs were Misses Betty Carson, Peggy Blake, Noni Jenner, Laura Manton, Betty Morrison and Doreen Milne.

Honeymoon destination of the newlyweds is Vancouver and Qualicum. With her gabardine

Kent Smith, who appears in Warner Bros.' sprightly filmization of John van Druten's sensational comedy-romance, "The Voice of the Turtle," which is now at the Atlas Theatre, learned about acting with the famed University Players at West Falmouth, Mass., in company with some other fledglings of the period named Henry Fonda, Margaret Sullivan, James Stewart and Bretaigne-Windust (the latter having just directed Bette Davis in "Winter Meeting").

PLAZA THEATRE

The wanderlust spirit has gripped Marc Lawrence since he left the New York stage for a film career in Hollywood. However, his urge to travel always leads him back to his home town, New York. When he completed his role in Monogram's comedy-drama, "Joe Palooka in The Knockout," starring Leon Errol, Lawrence again headed for the Great White Way. Ever since his roles in "Sour Mountain" and "Waiting for Lefty," Broadway has been Marc Lawrence's favorite rendezvous. The new Palooka film, based on Ham Fisher's famous comic strip, is now at the Plaza Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE

A musical without a chorus girl!
That's the unique distinction of "Summer Holiday," M.G.M.'s new Technicolor musical-drama, showing at the Capitol Theatre this week.
Musical version of Eugene O'Neill's famous play, "Ah, Wilderness!" the production was directed by Rouben Mamoulian. And, in keeping with his policy of "something new" for musicals, which he inaugurated with the Broadway successes, "Oklahoma," "Carousel," and "St. Louis Woman," Mamoulian had plenty of songs and dances in "Summer Holiday" but only the principals participated in them.

OAK BAY THEATRE

"London Town," now at the Oak Bay Theatre, is a colorful musical, with tunes that will set boys whistling and fans buying gramophone records. It has lovely girls in lovely frocks to charm the eye, sophisticated Greta Gynt and beautiful Kay Kendall for feminine appeal—and that lovable, warm humor characteristic of Sid Field.

ROYAL THEATRE

Climaxing the new season at the Royal Theatre is the booking of Warner Bros.' dramatic romance, "Winter Meeting," starring Bette Davis. Great interest surrounds this film as it marks the return of Miss Davis after a year's absence away from the screen. "Winter Meeting" tells a heart-throbbing story of a New England poetess, who falls in love with a returned naval hero. James Davis, a comparative newcomer, plays opposite the star. Bretaigne-Windust, celebrated Broadway director, is responsible for the direction of this offering.

Where To Go Tonight

(As Advertised)
ATLAS—"The Voice of the Turtle," starring Eleanor Parker and Ronald Regan.
CAPITOL—Mickey Rooney in "Summer Holiday."

DOMINION—Marsha Hunt and William Lundigan in "The Inside Story."

OAK BAY—"My Heart Goes Crazy."

ODEON—"Northwest Stampede," starring Joan Leslie.

PLAZA—Joe Palooka in "The Knockout."

RIO—Errol Flynn in "San Antonio."

ROYAL—"Winter Meeting," starring Bette Davis.

YORK—Barbara Stanwyck in "The Bride Wore Boots."

YORK THEATRE

"The Bride Wore Boots," Paramount comedy-drama starring Barbara Stanwyck, Robert Cummings and Diana Lynn, injected a new note in studio employees—"sit-ins." Much of the action in the hilarious film now at the York Theatre finds the principals astride horses, so the studio engaged the novel "sit-ins" to set aside as the camera and props were set up.

RIO THEATRE

There are times a film director deliberately sidesteps authenticity when filming a historic picture. LeRoy Prinz, who directed the dance scenes for Warner's Technicolor production, "San Antonio," the Errol Flynn-Alexis Smith starring film now at the Rio Theatre, did just that in the selection of six dancing girls.

To Furnish Cabin At Sunshine Camp

A recommendation of directors of the Gyro Club that $200 be granted for the furnishing and upkeep of a cabin at Sunshine Camp, Saseenon, was approved at the luncheon meeting Monday. The directors were instructed to take action on the matter as soon as possible. Guests of Gyro George Wilkinson at the meeting were three of his fellow-members on the provincial Labor Relations Board. These were: Fred Smelts, Harry Strange and Col. Macgregor McIntosh.

An invitation from the Queen Alexandra Solarium was given to all Gyros to attend the annual summer party at the Mill Bay institution on Aug. 18.

U.S. Commodity Markets Quiver Under Impact Of Cotton Break

By CANADIAN PRESS

United States commodity markets quivered Monday under the impact of a break of more than $3 a bale in New York cotton.

The break came when the U.S. Department of Agriculture forecast the 1948 cotton crop at 15,169,000 bales, or about 1,300,000 bales higher than was expected, and compared with 11,851,000 bales in 1947.

Under a late rally, prices closed $2.05 to $2.65 a bale lower. The Chicago Board of Trade reflected the break, especially with losses in lard and soybeans, but with wheat and other grains also down.

At this point commodities are being supported by the United States government loan level, the point at which a grower may borrow from the government on his crop, rather than sell at low prices. This loan level acts as a brake against extreme losses, and is a protection to the grower, but also a factor in keeping prices up.

LIVING INDEX UP

Canada found prices still in the ascendant with announcement that the cost-of-living index rose another 2.6 points in June to strike an all-time peak of 156.9 at July 1.

This is a continuation of pressures set into force in the spring, after an early-year hesitation, by general activity throughout North America, consisting partly of armament programs and stock-piling, but including other factors such as freight rate increases, the so-called "third-round" increase in wages has hardly made itself felt yet.

With peak activity virtually assured for the balance of the year, strong forces will be making for still higher prices. Lower commodity trends and buyer resistance are about the only lower-price forces in view, though some others are believed to exist.

The United States commodity swing had little reflection in Winnipeg, where grain trade was dull and prices mixed.

Security markets continued to mark time Monday despite the fact that the special session of the United States Congress had ended without institution of any drastic controls. New York retreated in the slowest session in five months. If the market is to stage a late-summer rally at all, conditions are about as right for it as they will be.

Toronto and Montreal were extremely dull, with slight declines.

McManama Scores 69 To Win Seniors Medal

Firing a par-equaling 69 over the Victoria Golf Club sea girted links, Gerry McManama of Seattle yesterday captured medal honors in the 26th annual Seniors Northwest Golf Association tournament which opened with a playing field of 182 entries.

A new member of the association, McManama was particularly deadly with his putter as he toured the first nine in one under par 32 and came back in 37, one over regulation figures. On the first nine McManama had birdie 2's on the second, seventh and eighth holes.

In runner-up position for medalist honors was Ralph Whaley, Seattle, four-time champion and defending titleholder, who checked in with a 73. Three well-known divoters, Roy Campbell of Seattle, A. S. G. Musgrave, Victoria, and A. E. Jukes of Vancouver, shared the next rung with 77's.

Ed Eisenhower, former Empress tourney winner and recently-crowned champion of the Washington State seniors, qualified for the championship flight of 16 with the 82.

Match play in the grand championship and other flights began today. Play will continue through until Friday when finals will take place.

Brilliant Shooting At Ottawa; 5th Team Wins

CONNAUGHT RANGES, South March, Ont. (CP)—Two matches shot yesterday in veering tricky winds to start the six-day Dominion of Canada Rifle Association meet here probably set Canadian records for the high number of steady-handed marksmen who came through with the hat-trick—a perfect score.

Despite gusts of wind that reduced marksmanship at times almost to skilful guessing, nine contestants in the 500-yard Conn-naught match and five in the 300-yard Tilton match fired 10 successive bull's-eyes to reach the possible 50 score. Shoot-offs will be made today to determine individual champions.

The nine top men in the Connaught match were: Lt. J. Boa, Toronto; S-Sgt. G. S. Darling, Ottawa; Sgt. L. W. Facklerley, Toronto; Sgt. K. S. Fox, Montreal; C.S.M.E. George, Winnipeg; Maj. F. J. Goodhouse, Ottawa; Maj. C. F. Kennedy, Truro, N.S.; Guardsman C. Rasmussen, Montreal and Lt. G. J. Rogers, Charlottetown, P.E.I.

The five in the Tilton match who hit bull's eyes 10 out of 10 times were: Pte. G. S. Boa, Toronto; Maj. A. B. Coulter, Ottawa; Maj. F. J. Goodhouse, Ottawa; Pte. J. Saldier, Edmonton, and S-Sgt. E. Ward, Ottawa.

600 PARTICIPATE
Over 600 entries—Canada's crack shots picked from provincial meets—made this the biggest D.C.R.A. meeting in 20 years. It is the second year of association competition after an eight-year lapse during and after the Second World War.

Elmer Gagne of Montreal, with a perfect score of 50, won undisputed possession of the Tyro match medal, open to novices and low scorers in previous meets. The Senator McDonald trophy for teams in the Tyro match, was carried off by a quartette from the 5th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment of Victoria. The quartette made 190 of a possible 200. Team members were J. R. Sullivan, 49; J. A. Young, 47; L. R. J. Palmer, 47, and J. E. Hutchings, 47.

New York—Lee Oma, 192, Detroit, stopped Willis "Red" Applegate, 188, Montclair, N.J. (9).

LITTLE SLIM, mild-mannered fellow was the whole show at Central Park Sunday as Douglas Tire snuffed a double-header from Ladysmith to open the island senior men's playoffs. I refer to Ken Gunter who received credit for a double pitching win. After throttling Ladysmith 15 to 0 in the opening engagement Gunter returned to action in the second tilt, pulled his club out of a bad jam and went on to win. His pitching was perfect, to say the least, and the hopes of Douglas Tire for another island, British Columbia and western Canada title sweep rest mainly on the good right arm of Gunter. He's their ace in the hole.

A PITCHER WHO APPEARS to have ice in his veins, as evidenced by his performance Sunday when he took the mound in the fifth inning of the second game with runners on second and third and nobody out, and calmly retired Ladysmith without a runner crossing the plate, Gunter never squawks over a ball and strike call. If his teammates should make errors behind him, Gunter just works that much harder. He's a great team player and I have yet to see him lose his temper in a ball game.

ATTITUDE OF SOME sports followers is hard to understand. At Sunday's games, for instance, there were a goodly number of the local fans who were actually pulling for Ladysmith to win. I would have thought these spectators, regardless of their feelings towards Douglas Tire in the local playoffs, would have at least given the home club their support in games against a visiting squad. The least they could have done was to have kept quiet, rather than like themselves up with the opposition.

LOOKING OVER A draft of the financial set-up for the western Canada playoffs, turned over to me by Manager Jim Lackie of Douglas Tire, it looks as if the British Columbia representatives are once again put on the spot. The club to represent this province, which will travel to Alberta for the first series, must post $300 to the playoff fund. Then it is pointed out that the visiting clubs do not participate in the profits of any series. A further note states if a satisfactory profit is realized on each over-all series, traveling clubs will share. That is certainly a wide-open arrangement and could easily mean the B.C. team would be forced to pay $300 for the privilege of participating in the playoffs. I remember last season when Esquimalt Meat Market had to put up $500 to get the western Canada playoffs at Vancouver. I have no recollection of Saskatoon, the prairie representative, being called on to put up any cash. Of course, in return for its $300 the B.C. team receives its return transportation, hotel accommodation and limited meal expense money. However, that arrangement for a cut in the profits is too wide open.

Blankenship Posts 18th Pitching Win

Recca's Home Run Provides Margin Over Salem; Honor Kasparovitch

Joe Blankenship today boasts his 18th pitching victory, highest number of any hurler in the Western International League, but he had a few anxious moments before the Athletics wound up on the right end of a 9 to 7 score against Salem Senators last night.

Win marked the opening of a three-game series. Tonight the Victoria club, along with the fans, will pay tribute to pitcher Lenny Kasparovitch who will be given a night. Presentations will be made to "Kaspy" in a pre-game ceremony following which the strong-armed right hander will step to the mound to try and make it two straight over Salem.

After being given a four-run lead in the first inning Blankenship appeared headed for an easy evening. However, Salem took advantage of a couple of errors by Jack Palmer and Russ Walseth to pick up four unearned runs and it made matters rough for Mr. Blankenship in the late innings. In the ninth Salem had the tying run at the plate but Joe took the next two batters.

HOME RUNS HURT

Five of Salem's seven runs came on home run pitches tossed by Blankenship. Catcher Bill Burgher really gave the Victoria pitcher a bad night with two circuit blows. On the other side of the ledger catch Sal Recca's home run for the A's with one runner aboard in the seventh proved the margin of victory.

Athletics greeted Salem starter Bob Stevenson with a barrage of singles, five in all, in the first inning, which, combined with a walk, accounted for four runs. Electing to save Stevenson for another starting assignment Manager Jack Wilson yanked him

Eddie Haddad Wins Opening Fight In Olympic Tourney

LONDON (AP)—Two Canadians who got into Monday's Olympic boxing eliminations won their matches and continue in the competition, fast narrowing down. The finals in all divisions will be reached Friday.

Eddie Haddad of Victoria, the Royal Canadian Navy's entry, scored a clear-cut victory over Ezz El Din Mahmoud Nasir of Egypt in the welterweight class.

Earlier little Armand Savioe of Montreal won his featherweight match when J. Shid Fani of Iran was disqualified for holding and other illegal tactics.

Cliff Blackburn of Montreal is still in the welterweight competition as a result of his Saturday night victory over M. Velez of the Philippines.

FAUL FIGHTS TOMORROW

Adam Faul of Regina, heavyweight, has yet to fight and is not drawn until Wednesday, when Blackburn will also fight again. Their opponents are not yet known.

Haddad, 20-year-old sailor who came from the navy's Esquimalt, B.C., station for the Olympic Games, said he just learned he had been made leading supply assistant.

After the match Haddad said he had been "battered in the left shoulder" and was nursing a cramp there, but that otherwise he was all right.

A reporter asked if he planned to send a telegram to his parents, in Canada.

"No, I'll wait after the finals Friday," he replied.

Tonight Haddad meets E. I. Gray of Ceylon.

Jokers, Foul Bay Open Bid For Boxla Crown Tonight

First round of the playoffs in the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse Association will get under way at Stevenson Memorial Park tonight at 6.30, with Rod Woolsey's Jokers meeting Foul Bay.

The semifinal series between the second and third-place teams will be a best-of-three set, with the second game scheduled for Stevenson Park Thursday.

In the other bracket of the semifinals, Nanaimo, league champions, will clash with Tillamook. First game is set for Nanaimo Saturday night, with the second tilt to be played in Victoria Sunday.

Winners of these series will meet in the finals, either a best-of-three or a best-of-five series.

Jokers line-up for tonight's game follows: Andrews, Joyce, McMillan, Temple, Scroggie, Booth, Ellis, Ovechark, Banks, Douglas, Walker, Stewart, Pel- low and Harding.

one on had given Salem its first two runs in the top of the fourth the A's matched them in the bottom half on singles by Lou Kublak and Blankenship along with Jack Palmer's long double to the left field corner. Singles by Walseth and Buccola and a boot by third sacker Mel Nunes gave Victoria another run in the sixth.

In the top of the seventh Salem got two back on Burgher's first homer but Recca's four-py wallop with Jensen aboard matched it. The Salem eighth saw Sinovic open with a single. Blankenship got the next two batters in order. Walseth tossed wildly to first on Gedzius' grounder and Burgher followed with his second home run to put Salem back in the ball game. After Al Spaeter had tagged Blankenship for his second double, with one away in the ninth, he forced both Nunes and Sinovic to ground out to the infield.

Blankenship had a good night in the strikeout department with 11. He gave up only two walks. Recca and Walseth, each with three for four, sparked the Athletics' 16-hit attack. Jensen had three for five. Recca picked up three RBIs and Palmer two.

In the only other game last night Vancouver Capilano overcame a 7 to 5 ninth inning deficit to defeat Yakima, 8 to 7 and end a five-game losing streak. Charlie Peterson, normally an outfielder, walked three Caps and gave up singles to Frank Mullens and Orrin Snyder.

Scots Roar Back To Tie Football Final

TORONTO (CP)—Montreal Carsteel and Vancouver St. Andrews were tied one-all today in their battle for the Dominion Football Association championship. They meet here tomorrow night in the playoff game.

Vancouver tied the series last night with a 3 to 1 victory over Montreal, who took the opener Saturday 4 to 3.

Vancouver, defending champs. outshone the challengers most of the way last night, starting defensive play midway in the final half. The first contest was a wide open, see-saw affairs, with each team taking the lead twice.

On the offensive nearly all through the second tilt, St. Andrews were stopped after many rushes by lanky Dan Smith, who was sensational in the Montreal nets.

Gordon Stewart, forward, tallied for Vancouver early in the first half but the score was tied soon afterwards on a goal by Jack Muir. Jim Greig put Vancouver back in the lead late in the period and added another midway in the last 45 minutes.

Greig, who features tricky footwork, leads goalgetters in the series with three. Tied for second place are two forwards—former Winnipegger Doug McMahon, who clinched the 4 to 3 decision with the tying and winning tallies, and Gordon Stewart of the Saints, who opened the scoring in each match.

SEEK FIRST TITLE
Carsteel, a 25-year-old club, seek their first Dominion soccer title.

The teams played last night on Broadview field in the east end of the city. And the Dominion Football Association ruled last night that they'll meet on that field again in the deciding game. Vancouver had protested that Oakwood Stadium—where Montreal won the opener 4 to 3—was too narrow and the D.F.A. upheld the westerners.

Sidney counted its clinching tally in the seventh.

Shoot Tomorrow

Next shoot scheduled by the North Saanich Rod and Gun Club will be held tomorrow evening at 6.30 on the shooting grounds off the main highway leading into Sidney.

Other shoots scheduled by the club will take place Aug. 29 at 2.30, Sept. 19 at 2.30 and Oct. 3 at 2.30.

Scores made on the first 25 birds by each shooter are being recorded for club competitions. Rules for these competitions are posted on the clubhouse notice board.

Olympic Jury Of Appeal Awards U.S. Relay Race

LONDON (AP)—The Olympic press office said today an Olympic jury of appeal has ruled the United States won the disputed 400-metre relay race.

The official announcement said: "The jury of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, having seen the film and the photographs of the 400-metre relay of the Olympic Games are satisfied that an error was made and the placing has been revised as follows:

"1. U.S.A.
"2. Great Britain.
"3. Italy."

The jury thus reversed the judges' decision which disqualified the American team after it finished about 10 yards ahead of the British squad.

The judges had said the baton was passed illegally on the first exchange between Barney Ewell and Lorenzo Wright.

DROPS CANADA TO FIFTH
The decision puts Canada back into fifth place instead of fourth. Hungary reverts to fourth instead of third and Holland to sixth instead of fifth.

The United States, already far ahead in the Olympic Games on unofficial point standing, picks up 10 more and Britain's total is shaved five.

Avery Brundage, president of the United States Olympic committee and member of the jury of appeal, said after the announcement: "It was quite clear we exchanged the baton two or three yards inside the marker."

Davies' 3-Hitter Marks Eagles' Win Over Ben's Bombers

Gar Taylor's Eagles finally put a halt to Ben's Bombers winning streak in the senior amateur baseball league last night, when they handed the loop-leaders their second setback of the season, 7 to 2. Win gave birdmen a full-game lead over the hard-pressing Navy squad in the battle for second place.

Veteran Stan Davies held complete control over the hard-hitting Bombers, limiting them to three singles, taking seven on strikes, and giving up only two walks. Frank Scroggs was tagged for his first loss of the season, being nicked for eight hits, including a three-run homer by Bernie Anderson.

Birdmen grabbed a one-run lead in the fourth when Anderson plied home after leading off the frame with a single, taking second on an error and third on a fielder's choice. Another pair in the fifth made it 3 to 0, but losers finally hit the score sheet in the bottom of the fifth. Eagles scored again in the sixth and Anderson's circuit clout rounded out their scoring in the seventh. Rookie Wright's single plated Earl Phillips with Bombers' second tally in the eighth.

Musial, Williams Still Walkaways In Batting Races

NEW YORK (AP) — Alvin Dark, rookie shortstop of the Boston Braves, gained some ground on Stan Musial but his chances of becoming the first freshman since 1941 to win the batting championship of the National League today remained slim.

Dark upped his average four points during last week to .334, but still trails the St. Louis Cardinals' slugger by 54 points. Musial slipped three points from .391 to .388 when he could collect only eight hits in 24 times at bat through games ending Sunday.

Chicago's Andy Pafko was third with .327, three degrees higher than the .324 compiled by another rookie Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn.

Musial was either the No. 1 or 2 man in every offensive department. In addition to batting, he led in runs with 91; hits with 155; and triples with 11.

Johnny Mize of the New York Giants paced the runs-batted-in leaders with 88, three more than Musial's total.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

CHICAGO (AP) — Ted Williams, the Boston slugger, continued to lead American League batters last week.

He boosted his percentage from .385 last week to .397 this week, with a total of 120 hits for 77 runs in 310 times at bat in 86 games.

Cleveland's Lou Boudreau also jacked up his average two points, to .345, remaining in second position, 42 points behind Williams. Vernon Stephens of Boston and Joe DiMaggio of New York, shared top honors for runs batted in, with 95 apiece, and DiMaggio had most runs, 80, and another tie, for 24 home runs, with Ken Keltner of Cleveland.

Mangrum Wins On Final Hole For $10,000 Payoff

CHICAGO (AP) — Golf's golden boy, Lloyd Mangrum, added up a week's earnings of $22,500 Monday by winning the $10,000 three-way Tam O'Shanter pro playoff with a two-under par 70.

Sam Snead posted 71 and Dutch Harrison a 73. Snead turned in birdies on the first two holes to gain a two-stroke lead over Mangrum and a four-stroke lead over Harrison, who was in trouble all day. From then on, Mangrum, from the host club, began taking the course apart and eventually came up to the last hole tied with Snead.

Snead's drive came to rest directly behind a pine tree in the rough, while Mangrum was down the middle 260 yards. Sammy could do nothing but chip out on to the fairway and then bang his third on to the green for a one-over-par five. Mangrum bounced his second shot 15 feet from the cup and went down for a par four.

South Beats North In All-Star Ball

If this sort of thing keeps up, the north may secede from the Coast League.

The south, for the seventh time in eight years, won the P.C.L. all-star game last night, 6 to 2. A crowd of 16,000 saw Will Werle, San Francisco's favorite southpaw, become the winning pitcher.

The north averted a shutout by scoring twice in the ninth. A single by Leon Mohr, a fielder's choice, Hillis Layne's double, and Nick Etten's fly salvaged some self-respect for the Oakland-Sacramento-Portland-Seattle gang.

Struck By Lightning On B.C. Peak 2 Of 4 California Alpinists Die

CRANBROOK (CP)—Two University of California students today were recuperating in the hospital here from a bizarre mountain-climbing experience which claimed the lives of two of their companions.

The four youthful alpinists were struck by lightning last Wednesday as they huddled in a small mountain cave. They had sought it for protection from a sudden mountain snow and ice storm which hit them high up on 11,500-foot Bugaboo Spear.

The reef is in the Purcell range of the Selkirk Mountains about 150 miles north of here in the Kootenay district.

Reported "freezing comfortably, slightly burned but otherwise all right" are Ann Strong, 20, of Berkeley, Calif., and John MacKinlay, 21, of San Francisco.

John Thune, first-aid director of the mountaineering party, said those who lost their lives were Rudolf Pundt of Berkeley and Bob Becker of Los Gatos.

18 IN PARTY

The four were members of a party of 18 Sierra Club climbers, all U. of C. students, climbing mountains in the Purcell range near Spilliamacheen.

The injured were brought to the hospital here Monday and Thune gave this description of the tragedy as related by MacKinlay:

All the climbers were hit by the lightning and knocked unconscious. When MacKinlay revived, he saw Pundt writhing in convulsions at the cliff's edge.

As he watched helpless, Pundt rolled over the cliff and dropped about 1,000 feet to his death.

Becker was barely conscious, MacKinlay said, and partially paralyzed.

MacKinlay and Miss Strong, both badly burned, decided to try a descent. They left Becker in the cave with food beside him and his body tied to prevent his slipping over the cliff.

MacKinlay and Miss Strong got down safely, but the ice had become so dangerous the rest of the party couldn't climb to the cave until Saturday. They found Becker dead.

SLIPPED FROM GRASP

Thune said that when rescuers reached the cave and cut Becker's body loose, it slipped from their grasp and also went over the ice edge. The bodies will probably be impossible to recover, Thune said.

The two deaths are the first claimed this year by B.C.'s rugged mountains. Charles Shiverick of Cleveland, member of a Harvard alpine party, was swept to his death a year ago when four Harvard alpinists attempted to scale Mount Waddington, B.C.'s highest peak. The body was not recovered.

Attacker Fined $50 For Breaking Jaw

For landing a haymaker which broke another man's jaw in two or three places and wrecked two teeth, Reginald S. Lachine, proprietor of the Rex Hotel, Johnson and Store Streets, was fined $50 by Deputy Magistrate P. J. Sinnott in city police court today.

Mr. Sinnott found Lachine guilty of occasioning Albert V. Olsen, New England Hotel, actual bodily harm, not grievous bodily harm as charged. A charge of assault against Olsen laid by Lachine was withdrawn at the request of the complainant after the decision had been rendered against him.

Petty Millar appeared as counsel for Olsen and Pat Bate for Lachine.

$300 Damage To Car When It Hits Tree

Damage to a car driven by William Nuttal, 524 Ellis Street, is estimated by city police at $300 after it had collided with a boulevard tree on Pandora west of Rebecca Street early this morning. Sgt. S. Holmes and Constables R. Mair and N. Galbraith attended and reported no one was injured in the crash.

Victoria-Esquimalt State Of Health Good

The state of health in Victoria and Esquimalt is excellent, it is reported by Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer for the two districts.

In support of his statement, Dr. Gayton points to the fact that in April, May and June there were only 25 cases of measles compared with 408 in the three months of 1947; 48 of chickenpox compared with 78; 17 of mumps compared with 77; 15 of pulmonary tuberculosis compared with 40.

The number of cases of venereal disease in the same period is much lower also.

Two persons died of tuberculosis in Victoria and Esquimalt in the three months compared with eight in the three months of last year.

The only substantial increase in cases of disease this year over last is in conjunctivitis. There were 23 cases in the three months this year and three in the corresponding period of last year.

Earth's Connection With Sun And Moon Explained In Talk

The relationship between the sun, earth and moon was graphically outlined by Gordon Shaw, past president of the Victoria centre, Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, in a lecture Monday night at Victoria College to persons enrolled in this year's "Summer Evenings with the Stars" series.

"The sun is composed of the same elements as the earth," Mr. Shaw told the gathering, "but it is so hot that they are all gaseous. Even the sun spots, which appear darker than the rest of the sun, are gaseous and hotter than any course of heat on earth."

The heat in some places on the sun is as high as 40,000,000 degrees Fahrenheit, he said.

The earth is dwarfed by the sun in actual size and the distance between the two is such that a fast Mosquito aircraft, if it could fly through a vacuum, would take 25 years to bridge the gap.

The moon, smaller than the earth, is a cold place. It has no atmosphere and its gravitational pull is so slight that a man who can jump six feet on earth, could easily jump 36 feet there.

"From the moon, the sky looks inky black. It looks blue to us because the atmosphere breaks up the sun's light which passes through it."

The meeting was presided over by Dr. Andrew McKellar, president of the group sponsoring the lecture series.

After Mr. Shaw's address, members of the audience were given an opportunity to study the moon through telescopes which had been set up for their convenience on the college grounds.

Washington Hard Hit By Polio This Year

Poliomyelitis has hit Washington State harder this year than last but B.C. figures are down.

There are 66 cases in the neighboring state so far compared with 35 in corresponding period of last year. The B.C. total this year to date is 50. Last year it was 83.

Greater Victoria has been free of the disease so far. Last year at this time two cases had been reported. Seven ratings off H.M.C.S. Athabasca stricken with the disease when it docked here from the east are not considered Victoria cases.

A total of 312 polio cases were reported in B.C. in the 12 months of last year. Vancouver had 172, Greater Victoria 17, other sections of Vancouver Island 13, and New Westminster 5. The total for Washington State last year was 165.

Saanich Planning For Sewer Connection

Plans are being drawn up by the engineer of Saanich to connect properties on Dupplin and Burnside Roads with the city's northwest sewer, the city was advised today.

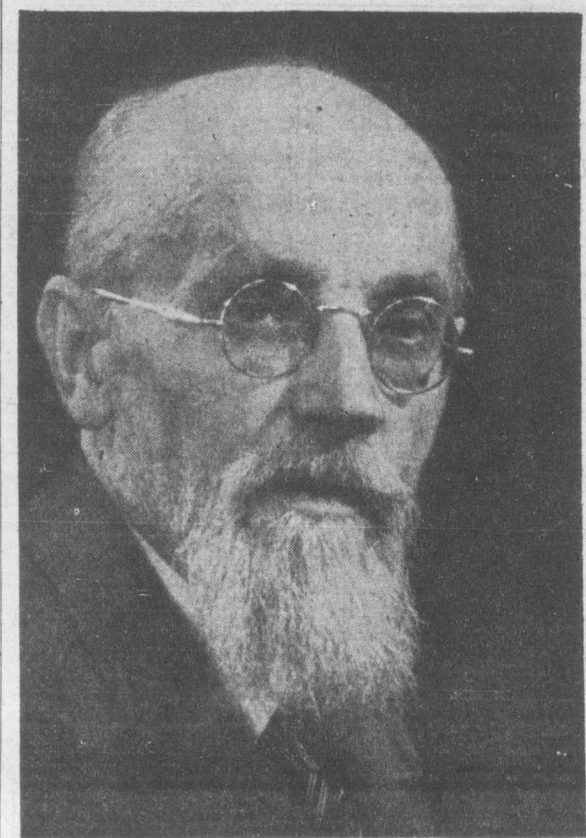

The city offered Saanich the opportunity to connect with the sewer at a nominal fee to free city property on Alpha Terrace from septic tank seepage from Saanich properties.

Marauding Mink Shot At Langford

LANGFORD LAKE — A marauding mink who had invaded the chicken house of A. F. Element, Island Highway, was shot down early this morning, but not before three of Mr. Element's choice chickens had been killed.

The mink was the first casualty among Langford Lake marauding animals, who have been descending from their hill homes to destroy cabbages and other garden greens. It is believed deer are among the animals.

Medalist McManama Scores 1 Up Win In Seniors' Golf

Sinking a 12-foot putt on the 18th green for the hole and the match, medalist Gerry McManama of Seattle defeated R. Bell-Irving of Vancouver 1 up in the first round of match play in the grand championship of the Seniors' Northwest Golf Association at the Victoria Club.

McManama had a medal score of 37-39—76, as compared to his opponent's 36-41—77.

After halving the first three holes, Bell-Irving won the fourth and fifth to go 2 up. McManama took the sixth and seventh with a pair of threes to square matters.

After halving the eighth, Bell-Irving won the ninth with a par three to reach the turn 1 up. McManama squared the match again at the 11th, only to have his opponent go up again at the 13th. A par four at the 18th put McManama all even again and, after halving the 17th, he won the match with his par four on the final hole.

Roy Campbell, Seattle, moved into the second round as a result of his 3 and 2 triumph over Harry Andrews of Tacoma, a finalist one year.

WHALEY WINS
Defending champion Ralph Whaley, Seattle, advanced safely through the first round, defeating John McKinley of Spokane, 5 and 4.

E. N. Eisenhower, Tacoma, engaged in a keen duel with G. E. Sullivan, Portland, before winning 2 and 1.

One of the best matches of the tournament is promised tomorrow when Whaley and Eisenhower fight it out.

A. E. Jukes, Vancouver, won from Walter Fovargue, Aberdeen, 5 and 4.

Victoria's two contenders in the championship both won today. A. S. G. Musgrave defeated D. R. Munro, Portland, 1 up. Munro missed a four-foot putt on the 18th green that would have squared the match. R.

Following liberation of his country by the Allies, M. Gay helped set up regional information centres and was elected honorary president of the National Federation of the French Press.

Days Not So Bright For Hitchhikers, Old-Timer Complains

He sat on the side of the road, his head in his hands—a dejected hitch-hiker.

"You don't get many lifts these days," he remarked. "I took two days to get here from Nanaimo."

Then, as if he wanted to impart an important observation, he jerked his head up and looked hard at the writer.

"A sure sign of the times," he said. "Believe me, we are heading for trouble."

"When people have financial worries and are beginning to feel the pinch of things," he explained, "they drive right on—that is the majority of them. Come good days, however, and you'll get any amount of lifts on the road."

LIKE THE STOCK MARKET

He looked at his dusty boots. "I've seen hitch-hiking go up and down like the stock market," he added. "I've moved about for about 20 years."

The knight of the road related that he got 23 lifts between Nanaimo and Victoria. Most of the drivers who stopped were only going a few miles. "The farmer and the small rural tradesman are my best friends these days," he said.

"Why don't you settle down for a while?" he was asked. "Now that's a foolish question," said the hitch-hiker showing signs of irritation. "Is there any more sense in you staying put in the same place all the days of your life," he blurted out.

"Rising, he slung his untidy bag across his back and proceeded down the road."

Probe Continues Into Island Fires

Inspector Robert Owens of the B.C. Police reported today that investigations of the fire which burned a school near Hilliers and an attempt to burn a church at Coombs, both close to the Vancouver Island Doukhobor community, were continuing.

The fire early last week destroyed the school and did very slight damage to the church. Both are believed to have been the efforts of an arsonist.

Inspector Owens indicated that the result of the investigations to date had not been very encouraging.

Veterans May Transfer To Vocational Training

Veterans who still have sufficient entitlement left, and whose rehabilitation will thus be more effectively accomplished, may now be transferred from university to vocational training or vice versa, provided application for transfer is made before Dec. 31, 1948. Veterans currently in receipt of training allowances may be so transferred if they make application not later than six months after termination of their present training course.

Solarium Donation

The sum of $107.50 was raised for the Queen Alexandra Solarium from the auction sale of spikes at the Victoria Gladiolus Society's recent show. L. W. Taverner, president, announced today.

In addition, two unidentified American visitors contributed $5 each.

One of the highlights of the show was the popularity contest. A deep cerise spike named "Margaret Wood" grown by Tom Harper took top honors, gaining almost twice as many votes as the second choice flower of a similar shade called "Burma."

Next in order were "Red Charm," a bright red color, a shell-pink "Pleasant," a large tawny mahogany "R. B. Bennett," and a mauve-colored "Huntress."

Playground Season To Conclude With Display, Splash Party

All the activities which Victoria children have been carrying on throughout the summer will be rolled into one Aug. 18 at Royal Athletic Park when playground groups from every park in the city participate in a windup display.

The program will open at 2 with a parade and decorated vehicle procession. During the afternoon contests of all sorts from running, stilt and slow bicycle races to boxing bouts and pie-eating competitions will be staged.

FOLK DANCING

There will be tumbling and folk dancing exhibitions and a dramatic fantasy entitled "A Child's Dream," with a cast of 30, will be presented.

Under the grandstand, craft-work done by the children in the past two months will be on display.

The boxing bouts, six of them, will be for city playground titles in all weight divisions. Vic Murdoch, well-known city boxer, will act as referee.

Officials in charge of the field day are: Gordon Hartley, announcer; Dorothy Tubbs, recorder; Jan Fleming, craft exhibit; Peter Worthington, starter; Frank Jarvis, Kay Isbister and Margaret Bracken, judges.

SPLASH PARTY

On Aug. 19, swimming activities of the playground groups will be concluded with a gala and splash party at the Crystal Garden.

While the younger children are under supervision at the shallow end of the pool, the older ones will be holding surface and underwater races and diving contests. The Pro Rec diving team will present a diving exhibition. Supervisors and instructors of the young swimmers include Fred Ellison, Eva Kelter, Gordon Hartley, Margaret Bracken, Betty Lowes and Beverly Wilms.

Onion, Cauliflower, Carrot Prices Drop

Onions, carrots and cauliflower have taken a price drop from their selling level of last week, a spokesman for city wholesalers made known today.

"It's good to be able to tell of something going down in price these days when most everything else seems to be going the other way," he noted in making the announcement.

Fresh corn, grown here and in the Fraser Valley, has made its first appearance of the season on local markets. More will be seen as the season progresses and prices will gradually decrease.

There are still some hothouse tomatoes being sold here although most stores are now handling outside tomatoes from the Okanagan. Shipments are being received here every second day.

The fruit picture is good this week.

Oranges from California are now coming here in more plentiful supply than they have for some time. A carload of grapefruit arrived Monday and lemons are reported to be plentiful.

The season's supply of apricots from the Okanagan is just about over, wholesalers say. Preserving peaches will be available in about two weeks, however, when crates of the Rochester and Three V's varieties are shipped here.

Householders intending to preserve peaches are advised to buy early. Albertan and Hale variety peaches, which will not come along until September, may be scarce.

Small shipments of plums are now being received here.

Firing Practice

Light anti-aircraft gunnery practice will be carried out from Macaulay Plains, Esquimalt, from 1 to 5 Thursday afternoon, it was announced today by Maj. C. H. Jervis-Read, commanding, Royal Canadian School of Artillery (C. and A.A.).

Practices will be conducted seaward in an arc between Great Race Rock on the right and Brodie Ledge on the left. Danger radius will be 13,000 yards.

Do you know these signs of wasteful tire wear?

ANSWERS:
(a) Excessive wear in centre of tread, caused by over-inflation.
(b) Scalloped appearance, caused by tire being out of balance, and possibly by faulty brakes.
(c) Feathered edges, caused by faulty steering.
These conditions mean wasteful tire wear. They can also lead to blowouts and defective steering.
Let us show you how low-cost precision adjustment can keep your car safe at all times. We will gladly tell you in advance what your car needs and what the cost will be. Drive in soon.

King's Record Provides Last Word Of Convention

By JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA (CP)—The old master had the last word.

Louis St. Laurent was the man they elected leader of the Liberal Party Saturday, all right, but for coming generations the living voice from the convention will be that of William Lyon Mackenzie King.

Atomic age enthusiasts of the future, successors to swing or bebop, dipping into their platter collections, may well come up with a 12-inch disc entitled "Message from Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King."

That will be Mr. King's last word. He had it through the pressing of a record that was presented to all 1,299 delegates to the convention that wound up Saturday.

In the transcription, the Prime Minister, dominant figure through most of the convention, set down in permanent form his ideas of the precepts and faiths of the Liberal Party.

It was a pretty general re-statement of Liberal dogma, as seen through the eyes of the man who has sculptured the shape of the party for the last 29 years. It was the reaffirmation of his own faiths.

And in its very creation it added another bit of evidence to the quite obvious convention theme that Mr. King, while bowing out of the active ring, was still the boss.

Altogether, except for the closing hours, it was a Mackenzie King convention.

And, through the magic of the waxed word, it may continue
